

Hear Jim Hammond

www.southwesternwineguy.com

Author; Artful Pairings columnist, Albuquerque Arts Magazine; Wine commentator, Wine commentator on the Blog Talk Radio program; Bold Foods, Bold Wine, with Southwest Cuisine expert Jane Butel; Wine blogger and speaker.

What Wine Really Tastes Like

Wondering what wine to serve with turkey, ham or goose? Ever wonder if the writer of the wine tasting notes on the bottle was drinking the same wine you were? Ever wonder how to separate the hype from the helpful? Ever think there had to be a better way to discover wines you will love?

Attend Jim Hammond's Wine Workshop and book signing:

Wine Tasting — What You Should Really Be Getting Out of It

And learn

- m How temperature affects wine taste
- m How to improve your perception of wine bouquet
- m How to spot defects in a wine
- m How to choose the best wine for your palate
- m Where to find great wine values

No wines will be tasted during this event

January Scheduled Classes

Workshops last about an hour after which Jim will answer questions, read excerpts from and sign his book, "Wines of Enchantment."

Jan. 14 5:30—7:00PM	Los Griegos Library	1000 Griegos Road NW, Albuquerque (505) 761-4020
Jan. 19 6:00—8:00PM	Edgewood Library	95 Hwy 344, Edgewood (505) 281-0138
Jan. 30 3:00—5:00PM	East Mountain Library	1 Old Tijeras Road, Tijeras (505) 281-8508

Books will be available for purchase after the workshop at a special event price: $8.00 includes tax

Jim's informed palate and communication style provides value for everyone from the novice to the sophisticate. His presentations are in high demand!

Practical, fun, engaging!

Jim's blog can be found at southwesternwineguy.blogspot.com

Wines of Enchantment: A Guide to Finding and Enjoying the Wines of New Mexico, offers a brief history of wine growing in New Mexico, the oldest successful wine-grape growing region in the US. It explains what you need to know about wine tasting, food pairing, and gives you a region-by-region, winery-by-winery into the world of New Mexico's fascinating wine industry.

Offered by Breakthru Communication
3824 Corrales Road, Ste A, Corrales, NM 87048
505-899-8758